

Evaluating the Impact of the Policy Strategy

See the following for a list of key questions to consider when developing your evaluation plan.

01

Who initiated the policy process and why?

02

Which stakeholders were involved in the process and when? Which stakeholders were not involved and why?

03

Were the expectations of the stakeholders fulfilled? If not, why not and for what reasons?

04

What difficulties arose during the development process and how were they addressed?

05

How were responsibilities assigned and coordination mechanisms decided?

06

What were the results of the different meetings organized during the development process?

07

Was the process of engaging stakeholders, educating decision makers, and informing policy successful?

08

How was the implementation of the policy communicated to the community?
